Relationship between emotional intelligence and leadership style in middle manager

Original Research, C1

Khorshidi A, Tarkhan F. and Naghsh Z.

ABSTRACT: This article investigates the relationship of emotional intelligence and leadership style in middle managers. Emotional Intelligence (EI) is a general construct that measures the ability to recognize, understand, and regulate emotions. Leadership style is categorized into transformational-oriented and pragmatic styles. Transformational-oriented style is explained by empathy; and Pragmatic style is explained by self-awareness and empathy.

Keywords: Emotional Intelligence, leadership style, Middle Manager
ABSTRACT: Today the subject of internationalization of higher education has been accompanied with the issues such as rapid changes, increasing competition, and globalization. In this research, the authors focus on the internationalization of higher education curricula across the world, particularly in countries like the United States, America, Finland, and Japan. The study examines the strategies and methods of teaching and learning in these countries to enhance the internationalization of educational systems.

Keywords: Internationalization, Higher Education, Curriculum Educational Systems, Comparative Study
ABSTRACT:

Adolescents

Keywords:

Conversation, Conformity, Separation-Individuation
Evaluation of Relationship between Personality Traits and General Health of High School Students

Zarei, E. Zeinalipour H. Tayebi sough M. Adli M. and Tayebi sough A.

ABSTRACT: The current research has been performed due to evaluation of ties of personality traits and general health. 205 students were evaluated and it was found that extraversion, openness (flexibility), agreeableness, conscientiousness and general health of students and there is a negative relationship (p < 0.05) between Neuroticism and general health of students. Neuroticism predicts 0.452 % of variance of general health.

Keywords: Personality Traits, General Health, Female Students
Network Policy Making: A Necessity for Today’s Organizations

Original Research, C5

Kamel M. Alvani S.M. and Mohammadi Moghadam Y.

ABSTRACT: The highly changeable and inconstant condition of organizational environments, including public and private sectors, has become a function for the growth of networks. The networks’ development has created a necessity for organizations. In this context, the study aims to focus on policy making in network structures and explore its implications for organizations in both public and private sectors.

Keywords: Policy making, Decision making, Network structures, Organizations, Public and private sectors.