Measures Taken by Iran to Prevent Transnational Organized Crimes and its Estimated Position Compared to the UN Criminal Policy

ABSTRACT:
Transnational Organized crimes are being considered as one of the most important problems of the 21st century. These crimes are considered as new forms of crimes that have important negative impacts on the world’s economies. The United Nations have recognized the need for the Member countries to adopt effective strategies to prevent and control these crimes. The government of Iran has been active in this regard and has taken several measures against Transnational Organized Crimes. The purpose of this paper is to compare the Iranian government’s position with the positions of the UN conventions (Palermo and Merida).
