Examine the Relationship between Formality, Centralization and Complexity with Entrepreneurship (Case study)

ABSTRACT: This study investigates the relationship between the dimensions of organizational structure (complexity, Formality and Centralization) and entrepreneurship. The results indicate that there is a significant and positive relationship between complexity and entrepreneurship. However, Formality and Centralization do not seem to have a substantial impact on entrepreneurship. The study suggests that organizations with more complex structures are more likely to engage in entrepreneurial activities, while organizations with simple structures are less likely to do so.
